Dear Bill:

I want to thank you for all the trouble you took as guide and mentor during my visit to New Orleans. I enjoyed this opportunity of meeting the distinguished members of the Edison Electric Institute and I have rarely spoken before so attentive an audience who seemed to take kindly to a speech which was not exactly a light one.

It was also a pleasure to have this opportunity of meeting Mrs. Webster and I enjoyed our brief visit through the old city. I sometimes wonder whether I will regret having been stubborn about that Siamese gal, as I think it was well worth the asking price. However, looking back on it, I don't know quite where in my house I would have put the lady.

Sincerely,

Allen W. Dulles
